The couch is your canvas

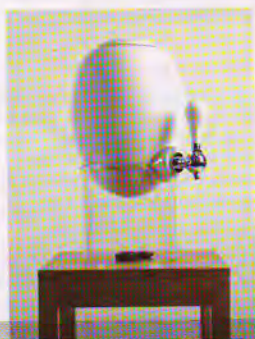

Is there anyone out there who doesn't want variety in their couch? The Bequia, by Perez of Montreal, comes in three pieces – an armrest, backrest and couch seat – which can be mixed and matched to your own specs. But upholstery is where personal expression becomes critical, and Bequia delivers with custom silkscreen printing of your own design. No two couches should ever look alike. CO

You can never be too thin

Adam Goodrum won an American International Design Review prize for Stitch chair, a fold-up seat that is now being made by Cappellini. This laser-cut aluminum beauty folds up to just 15 millimetres; or 25 folded Stitch chairs take up the same amount of space as one open chair. CO

Liquid zen

The most elegant water filtration egg ever made, the Ovopur, by Aquaovo of Montreal, is made of porcelain and revitalizes tap water using only gravity, soft curves, and a filtering system that incorporates copper alloy, zinc, carbon, bioceramic pellets and quartz crystal. The unit holds up to 11 litres. CO

Keepers of the yolk

They're called soldiers in Britain – toast that's been cut into strips for dipping in your morning yolk. When Japanese designer Reiko Kaneko arrived in London, she was enamoured by British lingoisms like "egg soldiers." These three fellows are modelled after WWI soldiers but have been Japanified with samurai swords. CO
