

february feature store – snob

Sadly, I haven't been to this store in person, however I was introduced to it a few years ago by a contact of mine at Elte in Toronto. It sort of fell off my radar until I saw their spectacular booth at IDS10.

Showcasing the diversity of African culture, snob is committed to bringing to life the talent of each artisan. With a celebration of South African style and a modern edge, each piece is authentic and original.

It's hard not to fall in love with so many of their pieces!

Visit their website for more beautiful finds. They are lovely people at snob and are happy to help you find that special 'story-telling' item for your room.

Let's hear it for snob!

I am Nyla Free...interior designer, wife and mother of two beautiful girls. I started my interior design company, Nyla Free Designs eight years ago after our first daughter was born. I am able to do what I love and stay involved with my girls' school and many activities. It's chaotic at times but I wouldn't have it any other way! Design in a Box is my newest product to help style savvy, yet budget conscious Canadians create their own beautiful rooms.
